Our friend Matt from the Chewonki Traveling Natural History Program brought some of his friends to visit LCS. Kindergarten & 1st graders were taught about the differences and similarities between birds and mammals through active learning. Students were able to handle and examine beak, foot, and feather specimens to get a closer look at each animal's special adaptations. 2nd - 8th grader discussed commonly-held myths about predators, and what problems they face. Through a slide show, activities, & discussions, students saw predators in the context of food webs and natural cycles. Students had the opportunity to study mounted animals and see three live, non-releasable predators.
